PEDAGOGY

Student-centric teaching aims at helping the students to understand that listening, speaking, reading and writing are not just the language skills but they are life skills too. The course will also equip the student with job skills to become content writers, interpreters, translators, transcribers and also the course will facilitate preparation for competitive examinations such as UPSC/KPSC/IBPS/SSC/RAILWAYS/TOEFL/IELTS and such others.

Reading Skills	✓ Reading Visual texts stimulates the imagination of the students resulting in impactful comprehension. ✓ The text could be used to teach the processes of understanding like ‘Interpreting’, ‘Exemplifying’, ‘Classifying’, ‘Summarizing’, ‘Inferring’, ‘Comparing’ and ‘Explaining’.
Listening Skills	✓ Listening to the speeches of great personalities will teach voice modulation and expressive articulation. ✓ Students could be made to listen and reproduce the speech in an impactful manner. The students can be made to deliver speech on any topic of their choice as classroom activity.
Speaking Skills	✓ Team leaders, marketing professionals, sales people, financial and healthcare executives, human resources professionals, government staff, and other managerial people are expected to be good communicators. ✓ Presentations will help the students in effective information delivery. Games like PowerPoint Karaoke can be played where participants take turns presenting slide decks that they've never seen before. This would increase the confidence of the students to provide effective presentations.

Writing Skills	✓ Writing skill increases career opportunities and increases productivity. The ability to write with brevity and clarity can be acquired by practice. ✓ Writing exercises can be taken from play or graphic narrative prescribed under Reading Skill. ✓ Commercial writing which involves advertisement writing is a marketing communication that aims to promote or provide information about a product, idea or service. Advertisements are usually communicated through mass media such as newspapers, magazines, radio, televisions, social media, and blog. ✓ Students can be given assignments on blog writing, product manual, posters and brochures.
